

Name: _____

Date: _____

Opinions

An opinion is a statement of personal feeling or preference. It cannot be proven true or false because it is based on personal feeling. This makes it the opposite of a fact.

Examples of Opinions:

The Georgia Bulldogs are the best college football team. (This is someone's personal feeling.)

Christmas is the best holiday. (Again, someone's personal feeling.)

Barak Obama is the best president that our country has ever had. (Personal judgement)

Read each statement and put an X beside the statements that are opinions.

1. This was the best performance ever by the marching band. _____
2. The band played three new songs during their show. _____
3. Mr. Jones teaches our math and science class. _____
4. Mrs. King is a better teacher than Mr. Jones. _____
5. Plain Cheerios are the best breakfast you can eat—tasty and healthy! _____
6. The sound of a cricket in the classroom is very annoying. _____
7. Grasshoppers can jump further than frogs. _____
8. Third grade is the hardest grade in elementary school. _____
9. The weatherman said that it is supposed to snow tomorrow. _____
10. Having to read 30 minutes every night is too much homework. _____

Name: _____

Date: _____

Answers--Opinions

An opinion is a statement of personal feeling or preference. It cannot be proven true or false because it is based on personal feeling. This makes it the opposite of a fact.

Examples of Opinions:

The Georgia Bulldogs are the best college football team. (This is someone's personal feeling.)

Christmas is the best holiday. (Again, someone's personal feeling.)

Barak Obama is the best president that our country has ever had. (Personal judgement)

Read each statement and put an X beside the statements that are opinions.

1. This was the best performance ever by the marching band. X
2. The band played three new songs during their show.
3. Mr. Jones teaches our math and science class.
4. Mrs. King is a better teacher than Mr. Jones. X
5. Plain Cheerios are the best breakfast you can eat—tasty and healthy! X
6. The sound of a cricket in the classroom is very annoying. X
7. Grasshoppers can jump further than frogs.
8. Third grade is the hardest grade in elementary school. X
9. The weatherman said that it is supposed to snow tomorrow.
10. Having to read 30 minutes every night is too much homework. X